

MARKETING BROCHURES

My in-house Marketing Team has access to all the latest tools and hot new technologies to design a variety of full color print brochures that effectively promote your property. To ensure that I get vibrant, high quality images that highlight the key selling points of your property, I arrange for a professional photographer to take photos of your home's interior and exterior.

Your property brochure will be distributed throughout the market by ongoing direct mail campaigns to my exclusive database of local and national homebuyers and cooperating real estate professionals. Also brochures will be distributed to prospective buyers and real estate professionals when your property is shown.
